

Chrisworth Piping Systems

Leakages are a common problem in Nigerian buildings, even in new ones. More than 80% of defects in buildings come from plumbing. More than 90% of the plumbing problems occur as a result of the use of substandard materials for water supply which give way easily because the products cannot withstand the pressure from the supply lines. Developers who are aware of these embarrassing leakages that even new buildings are prone to and are indeed searching anxiously for a remedy to this problem.

Chrisworth Piping Systems is a permanent solution to this problem.

Chrisworth pipes are made of aluminum layer sandwiched between layers of PEX, this also help to withstand thermal expansion and contraction, it can withstand high bars of pressure without to burst as against the conventional or traditional pipes. Chrisworth has put an end to this ugly experience in plumbing problems in homes and wherever used.
